PATERNOSTER, SA

STRANDLOPER OCEAN BOUTIQUE HOTEL

The best place to stay in the prettiest of the Cape's West Coast towns, Strandloper is exclusive – just 14 well-appointed rooms – but the location is the real winner. Right on the beach (step directly off your deck onto the sand) and tucked away on the edge of the village, you're surrounded by nature, yet still in walking distance from Paternoster's fabulous restaurants and charming streetscape. Stroll down to the ocean for an invigorating swim, or stay cocooned in your room and enjoy the mesmerising views. Elegant, comfortable, quiet (no children under 14) and very classy. If you can, book a suite rather than one of the courtyard rooms. Ocean Suites are the ones to book (The Executive Ocean Suite is one of the nicest I have ever stayed in); Nature King suites don't have ocean views but make up for it with space. PdB

[< 40% DEALS] CAPE TOWN, SA

KENSINGTON PLACE

A true boutique hotel in every sense – exclusive, elegant, individual, modern. Most rooms are the size of mini-suites and offer splendid views of the twinkling city and harbour; the best are on the second floor with balconies overlooking the city (numbers 1 to 3), or number 8 which has a private entrance as well as glorious views. A comfortable lounging area – surrounded with billowing curtains – overlooks the small pool, and there is always someone on hand to replenish your drink. Dinners are served on request but bustling Kloof Street, aka the city's 'dining mile', is a short stroll away. PdB

SWELLENDAM, SA

SCHOONE OORDT

A sensitive renovation of an 1850s country house, surrounded by beautifully groomed gardens, Schoone Oordt offers luxuriant comfort in the heart of the pretty town of Swellendam. Gorgeous rooms aside (they have wood fireplaces and underfloor heating), it's the impeccable service that really makes this such a class act – sincere, warm and caring, attentive to small details, and so well versed in what to do in the area. Most people stay for one night en route to the Garden Route and regret it, given how much there is to explore in and around town. The conservatory is now where dinners are served – these are just as good as the legendary breakfasts (it's worth staying here just to taste the best, most luxurious muesli in the Cape!). PdB
